CILT Australia

Professional Development Program (PDP)

Statistics 4 Logistics

Friday 12th February 2016

CILT Australia will be hosting a PDP “STATISTICS 4 LOGISTICS” at Melbourne Universities “Graduate House” on Friday 12th February.

We are offering this 1 day, high quality but very low key, non-stressful fun introduction to Statistics.

Dr David Wilson (Master Research Australasia) has designed and will be presenting this program for those terrified of statistics. Anyone who has not progressed with mathematics or statistics past high school or who have forgotten most first year university introductory quantitative subjects will find this program extremely useful.

This is a hands-on one day course where participants will be involved with calculating and interpreting data.

For more information see the attached flyer.

Associate Professor Kim Hassall will make a cameo appearance to present “An Introduction to Fragility Metrics”

Seats are limited so register your place at:
